

LEAKED MEMO PROVES BUSH LIED ON IRAQ

By Greg Szymanski

An explosive memo sent to Britain's prime minister and others by a former foreign policy aide clearly shows President Bush "doctored" intelligence reports prior to the Iraqi invasion in order to justify war based on weapons of mass destruction.

The potentially damaging memo was leaked to the London press this week, revealing an internal memo sent on July 23, 2002, by Matthew Rycroft, a former defense policy aide. Rycroft addressed his concerns about America's deceptive "rush to war" to Britain's heads of state, including the prime minister, defense secretary, foreign secretary and attorney general.

Since the United States invaded Iraq based on an imminent threat of weapons of mass destruction, the Bush administration has stood firm on its decision to topple Saddam Hussein, claiming it should not now be blamed for faulty intelligence reports. To date no WMDs have ever been uncovered in Iraq, and serious questions have been raised about America's "rush to judgment" in attacking Iraq.

The memo, which has been verified as "Secret and Personal—For UK Eyes Only," clearly shows the Bush administration lied to the American people about its basis for going to war in Iraq. To date over 1,600 American troops have been killed in the fighting, and approximately 100,000

BILDERBERG EXPOSED

World Shadow Government Uncovered by AFP Again

By James P. Tucker Jr.

What kind of a world does the elite plan for you? Since 1954, the Bilderberg group, with the collaboration of the mainstream media, has been meeting in secret, behind closed and heavily guarded doors, to make decisions affecting virtually everyone on Earth. This year, Bilderberg was exposed at a posh resort in a tiny village 40 miles from Munich.

Bilderberg has roughly 120 participants, including international financiers, heads of state and other high officials from Europe and North America. U.S. luminaries include David Rockefeller and Henry Kissinger.

All recent presidents, except the current George W. Bush, have been linked, either directly or by involvement with Bilderberg's brother group, the Trilateral Commission. The two groups have interlocking leadership and a common agenda. Here are some past presidents who have been connected:

Jerry Ford, Bilderberg; Jimmy Carter, Trilateral; Ronald Reagan, a critic of the Trilateralists until entering the White House, where he held a reception for them; Bush the Elder, Trilateral; and Bill Clinton, Bilderberg.

The White House and the departments of state, defense and treasury are always represented at Bilderberg, along with other high officials. They lie and say they are attending no such meeting. The ritzy resort that Bilderberg takes over, banishing all other guests, also lies and says no such meeting is taking place.

Soldier With Conscience Gets Break

By Mark Anderson

Amilitary judge presiding over the case of a U.S. soldier who was charged with desertion for refusing to return to Iraq has issued an unusual ruling that surprised everyone in the courtroom—including the attorneys for both sides.

Lawyers for U.S. Army Sgt. Kevin Benderman had argued that the military investigation into charges that Benderman is a deserter was biased against him from the start. The judge agreed, and tossed out the investigation.

For now, the judge's decision had ended the court-martial. But it hasn't ended there, as the charges of desertion still remain against Benderman. With a possible second court-martial, a final decision could take weeks.

Previously Benderman had been dealt a setback in his
